Outside the Museum

Background story/intro:

You have planned to spend the afternoon at the American Museum of Natural History in New York. The museum is famous for its giant dinosaur skeletons that you always wanted to see. You are running late, because you missed the first bus going to Manhattan, and the museum closes at 17 o'clock. So, you only have a short time to see the exhibits.

To enter the museum, you must go up the stairs and pass through the main entrance. Once inside the museum collect six clues. Every time you solve a puzzle, you get a letter which is part of the exit code. You can leave the escape room via the cellar - but you need the clues to exit.

To collect the clues, you must use all your wits in the game. Click on animals, things, people – dead or alive that you see, and collect the information that will let you to leave in time.

Rumour has it that strange things happen after opening hours, so make sure that you are out in time!

The Front Hall

The Dinosaur Exhibit

The museum is famous for its collection of dinosaur skeletons. This is a Tyrannosaurus Rex. Notice the big teeth! It's a good thing that it doesn't live on Earth anymore. It's extinct/ has died out.

Watch the video and find out what might have killed the dinosaurs.
